Ivan Capdevila [1] participated in the 1st Caldes de Montbui Climate Action Conference, held on March 5, where more than fifty people signed up for the municipality's Local Energy Community (CEL). The Director of the Study Ramon Folch participated in a discussion on the operation of energy communities, together with representatives of the companies Elecsum and km0 Energy, which have also participated in the project. Specifically, ERF carried out the photovoltaic sizing of the Caldes municipal facilities [2].

The conference was attended by the Minister of Climate Action, Food and Rural Agenda, Teresa Jordà, as well as the meteorologist and climate change expert Tomàs Molina.
