ERF obtains the ISO 14001 certificate for environmental management systems

03/10/2022

This certification guarantees a commitment and sustainable management of ERF's activity

ERF has obtained the ISO 14001:2015 certificate [1] for the management of strategic environmental, territorial, urban and energy efficiency consulting, as well as energy management and audits; which represents the central scope of its activity. This standard, of a voluntary nature, specifies the most important requirements to control and manage the environmental aspects of the organization.

In this way, ERF certifies a commitment and sustainable management of its activity, incorporating environmental issues at all levels, and an improvement and optimization of resource management.
